A good deai of talk has been occasioned by the failure of Gov. Ireland to address the university students. to address the university students, although his name was down on the programme. It develops that he had never accepted the invitation to deliver an address and that the use of his name was unauthorized. Last year, it will be remembered, the governor spoke at commencement, and his remarks not being suited to the tastes of the content of the university management of the university and the programment of the university and the content of the content o the present management of the university, they were terribly incensed. This is supposed to be the reason of the declination of the governor to address the students. Friends of Prof. Smith Ragsdale, late proctor of the university, say he was dismissed by the board of regents because of "offensive partisanship" in giving his indorsement to the Pfeuffer bill during the recent session of the legislature, which the regents entertained for which the regents entertained the same sort of affection that the devil is popularly supposed to hold for holy water. Prof. Ragadale's time had not expired by several months, and no charges were preferred against him. So palpable is it that the dismissal was a piece of political revenge, that the board is severely critised for it, even in the house of its friends.

The Dark Brother in His Glory-The Alumni Reunion. Special.

WACO, TEX , June 19 .- The colored man and brother has been in his glory to-day. It was the anniversary of "Emancipation Day," and thousands of negroes celebrated with fervor and joy. A long procession, headed by a brass band, paraded the streets. A dozen large ornamented cars were in the procession. The one most noticed was that portraying the progress of the colored race from 1885 to 1885. Then the procession went out to the driving park, where orations and fes-tivities lasted all day, and are going on yet. The exercises continue through to-morrow, when the negroes will go to work again. The display was very creditable in all respects.

BLOSSOM PRAIRIE, June 19 .- Blossom Prairie has just witnessed the commencement exercises of the first annual session of its academy. They began on Sunday with a sermon by Rev. J. R. Allen of Paris. The churches being closed, all congrega-tions met at the academy hall and heard a most eloquent sermon to the young from the text: "Godliness is profitable unto all things."

Monday morning at 9 a. m. the hall was packed with those interested in education to hear the examination of

The exercises continued until Thursday night, when the final entertainment was given, and the honors of the year were awarded to Miss Ara Hancock, in the shape of a beautiful gold medal.

The monotony of a four days' exami nation was broken by music and reci-tations between the examinations of each class. All the exercises were largely attended, and students ac-quitted themselves so as to give great credit to both students and teachers. The success of a hard year's work has shown to the people of Blossom Prairie that Prof. Hobbs is the right man in the right place.

This imposing statue, higher than the enormous towers of the great Brooklyn bridge or the steeple of the Trinity church, which is the lofti-est in the city of New York—higher, in fact, than any of the colossal statues in fact, than any of the colossal statues of antiquity—by its rare artistic proportions, as well as by its stupendous dimensions, will add another to the wonders of the world. A word should be said of its artistic merit. Emancipation Kept-The Projected Street Railway to Denison Being Pushed Forward.

SHERMAN, TEX., June 19 .- The accounts of destruction to the cotton crop by the worm are not nearly so bad as reported several days ago, and from information gained from farmers living in different sections of Grayson county it now appears that many neighborhoods have been almost ex-empt from injury. The worst reports come from the sandy lands, but in the West the farmers have replanted promptly, and say the worm will dis-appear before the cotton comes up. Af-ter a pretty careful estimate we put the damage at about one-fourth of the area planted, while 75 per cent, of that destroyed has been sown again. Take these figures along with the fact that an increased acreage was planted in the beginning, and we have a prosect of an average number of bales for pect of an average number of bales for the season unless some other cause arises to prevent it.
